

2 July 2020

VMIA appoints Angela Kelly to lead insurance operations

Victorian Managed Insurance Authority (VMIA) CEO, Andrew Davies, today announced the appointment of Angela Kelly as Chief Insurance Officer.

Currently CEO of the Singapore arm of Lloyds of London, Ms Kelly has extensive experience in delivering traditional and innovative insurance and reinsurance solutions to customers across a broad range of sectors.

With a background in broking and underwriting, Ms Kelly has held key leadership roles with Swiss Re Corporate Solutions and Lloyd's of London in Singapore, and is a respected industry thought leader in the Asia Pacific region.

As the Victorian Government's Insurer, VMIA is responsible for providing insurance and risk advice to government departments, agencies and community clients across the State.

The Chief Insurance Officer leads VMIA's team of experts in developing innovative insurance responses to emerging risks, delivering high quality claims management and harnessing our data and claims experience to inform better risk management and harm prevention for the Victorian public sector.

Ms Kelly is currently preparing to relocate to Melbourne with her family and will commence with VMIA in September 2020.

Quotes attributable to VMIA Chief Executive Officer, Andrew Davies

"Angela's global perspective on risk and insurance, strong industry networks and connection with VMIA's social purpose make her the ideal person to lead our insurance division.

I look forward to working with Angela to keep evolving our business, ensuring we continue to offer world-leading insurance solutions that help Victoria thrive."

Quotes attributable VMIA Chief Insurance Officer, Angela Kelly

"I'm thrilled to be joining VMIA. As the state insurer, VMIA is integral in safeguarding the people, places and critical services that make Victoria a great place to work, live and play.

I'm excited to be working with the talented team at VMIA to deliver risk and insurance solutions that make a real impact for our clients."

Media contact: Tim McLean, Executive Manager Communications, VMIA, on (03) 9094 2706 or t.mclean@vmia.vic.gov.au

About Angela Kelly

Angela is passionate about the positive role the insurance sector plays in protecting and supporting the ambitions of people, businesses and communities.

Throughout her 30-year insurance industry career Angela has held roles in broking and underwriting and more recently senior leadership roles with Swiss Re Corporate Solutions and Lloyd's of London in Singapore. Angela has extensive experience in delivering traditional and innovative insurance and reinsurance solutions to customers across a broad range of sectors. In her various roles Angela has worked in Melbourne, Sydney, Queensland, Hong Kong and Singapore.

In her most recent role as CEO of Lloyd's of London in Singapore Angela was responsible for coordinating the activities of the Lloyd's market development, regulatory and compliance, operations and finance teams to drive the strategic direction, promotion and oversight of Lloyd's in Singapore and to promote Lloyd's in the broader ASEAN region.

Angela holds a Masters of Commercial Law and Bachelor of Commerce (Ins. & Mgt). She is a Fellow of ANZIIF and a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

About VMIA

VMIA is the Victorian Government's insurer and risk adviser, a statutory authority established under the Victorian Managed Insurance Authority Act 1996 (VMIA Act).

As the State's insurer, VMIA protects more than $208 billion of Victorian state assets and supports more than 4,600 government and community organisations to minimise risk and rapidly recover when things go wrong.

VMIA also offers domestic building insurance (DBI) in Victoria, which provides cover to homeowners for incomplete or defective building work.